2. B. Sc. in Computer Science:

21st century is the era of modern technologies and computer science is playing a significant role for us. Computer Science or Computing Science (abbreviated as CS) is the theoretical and practical study of computer systems with the scientific and mathematical approach in information technology and computing. A computer scientist is a person who does work at a professional level in computer science.

Its subfields can be divided into practical techniques for its implementation and application in computer systems and purely theoretical areas. Some, such as computational complexity theory, which studies fundamental properties of computational problems, are highly abstract, while others, such as computer graphics, emphasize real-world applications. Still others focus on the challenges in implementing computations. For example, programming language theory studies approaches to description of computations, while the study of computer programming itself investigates various aspects of the use of programming languages and complex systems, and human-computer interaction focuses on the challenges in making computers and computations useful, usable, and universally accessible to humans.

As India is a growing country and a large number of software companies are coming up, persons having software skills have brighter job opportunities.

Examination Scheme:*3. B. Sc. in Information Technology

Information Technology is an interdisciplinary science primarily concerned with analysis, collection, classification, manipulation, storage, retrieval and dissemination of information. Information Technology is the area of managing technology and spans wide variety of areas that include computer software, information systems, computer hardware, programming languages but are not limited to things such as processes, and data constructs. In short, anything that renders data, information or perceived knowledge in any visual format whatsoever, via any multimedia distribution mechanism, is considered part of the IT domain. IT provides businesses with four sets of core services to help execute the business strategy: business process automation, providing information, connecting with customers, and productivity tools.

IT professionals perform a variety of functions (IT Disciplines/Competencies) that ranges from installing applications to designing complex computer networks and information databases. The duties that IT professionals perform may include data management, networking, engineering computer hardware, database and software design, as well as management and administration of entire systems. Information technology is spreading further than the conventional personal computer and network technologies, and more into integrations with other technologies such as the use of cell phones, televisions, automobiles, and more, which is increasing the demand for such jobs.
